“The Best School of All”

We'll honour yet the School we knew,
The best School of all:
We'll honour yet the rule we knew,
Till the last bell call.
For, working days or holidays,
And glad or melancholy days,
They were great days and jolly days
At the best School of all.

—SIR HENRY NEWBOLT

A Message from the Minister of Agriculture

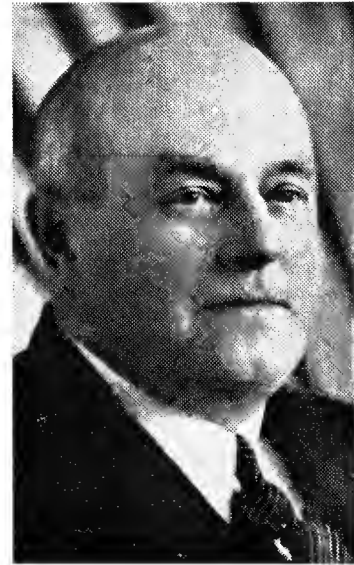

I AM happy to have the opportunity of addressing a message to the girls and boys attending the Olds School of Agriculture.

The publication of the 1939-40 School Year Book reminds us that another class is about to graduate at Olds. Those who leave the School this year enter upon a new stage of their careers under unusual conditions brought about by our country's participation in another war. These conditions may provide exceptional opportunities for service in a great cause, and young people may be obliged to assume great responsibility in our war effort.

Whatever may be the demands made upon you, I am confident that the training you have received at the Olds School has prepared you to do your part in the discharge of any tasks requested of you by your province or your Country.

It is my hope that you will be spared the horrors of active warfare, and that you will have the opportunity of returning to your home communities and make a contribution toward the improvement of rural life in Alberta.

My best wishes are extended to each and all of you in whatever field of life's activities you may enter.

D. B. MULLEN,
Minister of Agriculture.

Foreword

ANOTHER school year is drawing to a close and I am glad to send you a short message for the 1939-40 edition of "Echoes."

The students who graduate in Agriculture and Home Economics this year emerge from Olds at a critical period in the history of our Province and our Country. As graduates, you have enjoyed the benefits of an institution which is conducted for the training of young people and the development of rural leaders. Having had the opportunities of advancing yourselves, you assume the responsibility of assisting others; and when our Country is at war, trained men and women have much to contribute and much may be demanded of them.

From my impressions of this year's class, gained through visits to the School, and favorable reports from your instructors, I am quite sure you will be worthy representatives of Olds and play your full part in the various pursuits of civil life, or in the programmes of defense should that become necessary. Once the war is over, the problems of reconstruction will challenge young people with special training, and Olds boys and girls may have the opportunity of contributing something worthwhile to the Province, which has already provided the facilities for the education you have received at the School of Agriculture.

I should like to express the sincere hope that your careers will be marked with success, good deeds, great achievements, and much happiness.

J. R. SWEENEY,
*Deputy Minister, and
Supt. of the Schools of Agriculture.*

The Principal's Message

IT IS a pleasure to extend my congratulations to the graduates of 1940. You have satisfactorily completed the work of the course and have received the academic recognition that the diploma carries. You have maintained the standard of the school in the athletic, the literary and the social fields. These activities have not been without profit.

You go out into a disturbed world, a world lacking confidence in its own institutions, a world permeated with distrust and fear, a world of war. The purpose for which your talents will be needed cannot be foretold. You may be called upon to manoeuvre a tank, to guide an aeroplane or to man a submarine. Whatever your future may be your training here helps in the efficient discharge of your duties.

It is our hope most of all that the good fellowship that you have enjoyed while at the school will enable you to assist when the time comes in bringing about an enduring fellowship among all men and everlasting peace.

IN SUBMITTING this Year Book for your approval, we cannot claim credit for ourselves. We gratefully acknowledge the assistance of every Staff member and every student, and present this book as a product of a united School effort.

May the remarkable co-operation shown by you all in the preparation of this edition of "Echoes" continue to be a symbol of your lives in the difficult years which lie ahead. May you devote yourselves as unselfishly to the service of God and mankind as you have devoted yourselves to the production of a worthy record of our School.

Valedictory

TIME ROLLS his ceaseless course" and we are gathered here, as students, for the last time. Tonight our days at this School must end. It is with heavy hearts that we prepare to go our various ways; breaking up our circle of friends; leaving behind the School which we have learned to love.

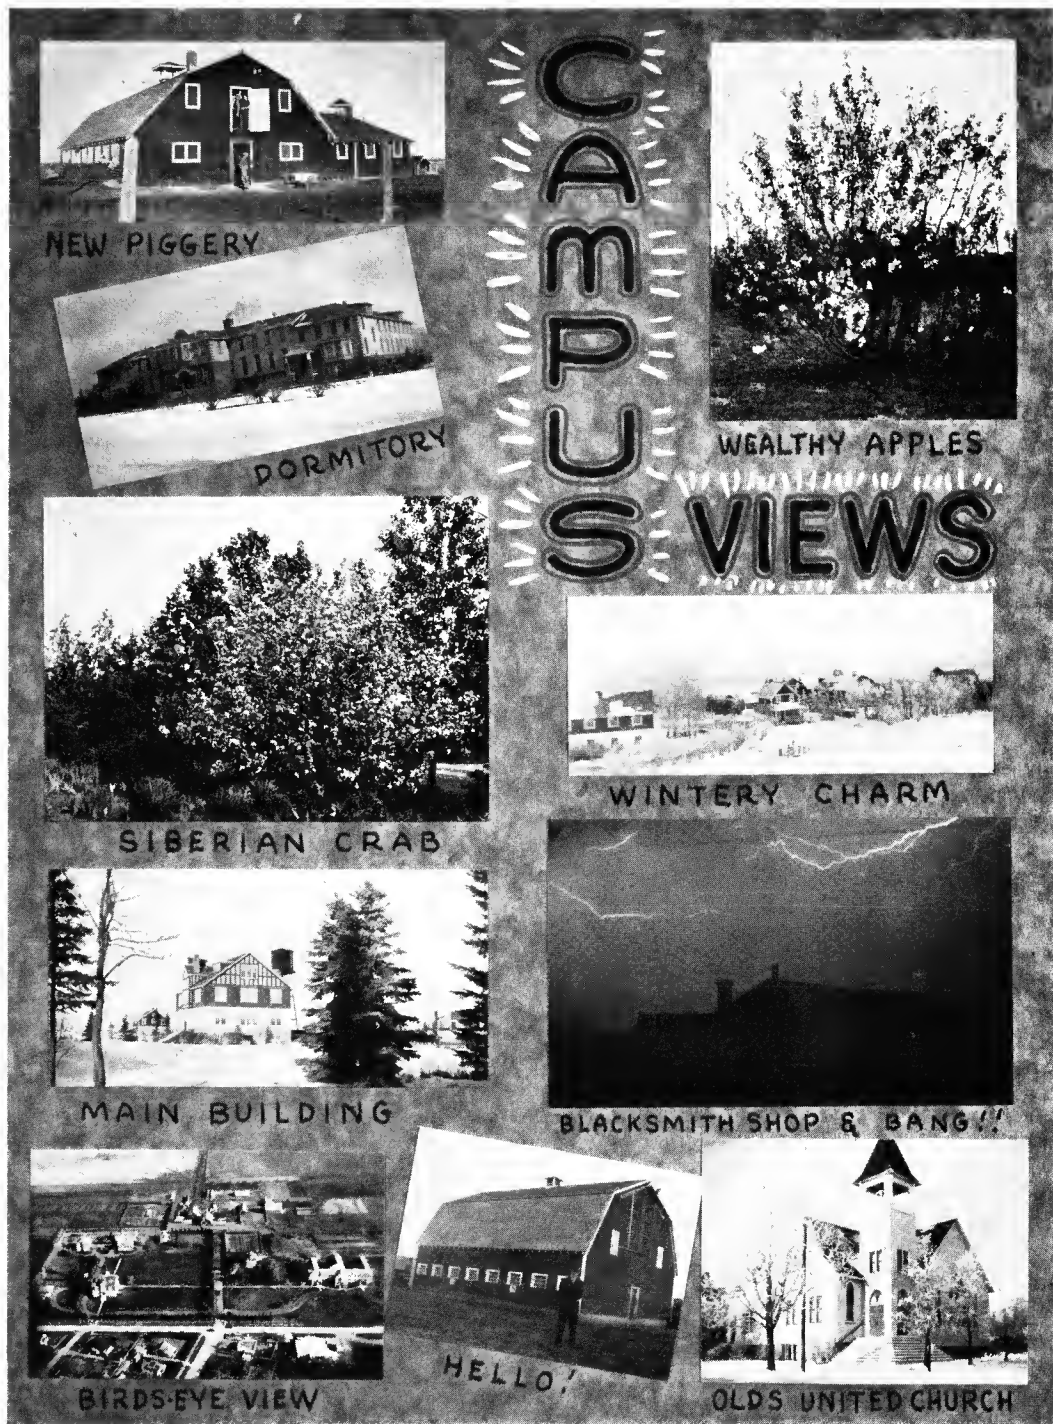

As we look back upon the short time we have spent at this School, we are filled with gratitude; gratitude to those whose sacrifices have made it possible for us to attend the O. S. A., gratitude to Mr. Murray and his staff, who have worked so unselfishly in our interests, in and out of class; gratitude to our fellow-students, who have been our sympathizers, our helpers, our critics and our friends.

As we scatter to our homes tomorrow, we shall be charged with the responsibility of making use of the learning which we have acquired during our stay here. It shall be our duty to do our part, however small, to be of help to others.

As the future unfolds, I hope we shall all develop lives of service, for everyone can be of value to humanity if he will but try. In the years to come, I want it said of this graduating class that we were true to the example of unselfish service set by our instructors. I want it said of us that we displayed throughout our lives the same friendly attitude toward others as existed between the students at this School. I want it said of us that we were true to the finest traditions of the O. S. A. I want it said of us, in fact, that we were worthy graduates of the Olds School of Agriculture.

THE ALBERTA SCHOOL OF COMMUNITY LIFE

THIS is an experiment in adult education in Alberta, carried on at the Olds School of Agriculture since 1937. People have attended from widely separated parts of the province.

Prominent authorities are obtained to lead the discussion. Among those present last summer were Professor McKenzie of Toronto University, speaking on International Affairs, and Professor Drummond of O. A. C., on Rural Sociology.

The purpose of the School is to provide an opportunity for grown-ups to discuss matters of human affairs. It is based somewhat on the Danish Folk Schools System and promises great success.

THE O.S.A. ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

A FEW years after the first students graduated from the Olds School of Agriculture in 1915, a number of the ex-students came together and formed the O. S. A. Alumni Association. The purpose of the Association was to have an organized body of ex-students who wished to continue their interest in the affairs and activities of the O. S. A. and to retain to some extent contact with their fellow ex-students. The Association has retained a fairly good membership throughout the years and has sponsored a number of worthy enterprises.

The O. S. A. News—publication of which was started soon after the Association was formed—has played an important part in the life of the Alumni Association. The News is published from time to time and contains many items of interest about ex-students, the O. S. A. staff, school and farm. Articles of particular interest to ex-students are also published.

As time passed two branches of the parent organization—the Girls' Alumnae and the O. S. A. Experimental Union—were formed, both of which are carrying on quite successfully in their respective fields. The Girls' Alumnae holds a popular dance or bazaar at which they raise sufficient money for a scholarship to be awarded to some girl who returns for her second year at the School. The O. S. A. Experimental Union distributes each spring through its membership many hundreds of parcels of seeds and plants for the use and beautification of Alberta farm homes.

In 1934 the Alumni Association sponsored the twenty-first birthday party of the Olds School of Agriculture. Guest speakers were secured for the occasion and a great crowd of ex-students and their friends enjoyed the meetings and social time provided.

A few years after the close of the World War the Association had unveiled a memorial to those ex-students who lost their lives in the war. The memorial is in the form of a clock and tablet and is placed in the hall of the Main Building.

The Alumni Association holds its annual meeting and get-together in July, and in the winter it sponsors a dance. These functions afford the ex-students a chance to again meet their classmates and other ex-students and to re-visit the School as graduates. It is hoped that many of the class of 1940 will become members of the O. S. A. Alumni Association.

"PRACTICAL ANIMAL HUSBANDRY"

Piggy, piggy, eat your fill,
Gobble up your grain and swill,

"Are you truthful?" asked an employer, interviewing a prospective office boy in the presence of his mother.

"Aye," replied the mother quickly, "The lad is that. But of course he understands business is business."

THE duties of this body are not clearly defined. However, a certain amount of responsibility with regard to matters of interest to the student body falls within their jurisdiction.

For the most part, the members of the executive consider it a personal responsibility to assist the literary and social committees in the presenting of enjoyable lits and social activities.

Last year a new office, that of President of the Student Body, was added, with Lloyd Grisdale becoming the first President.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT

The snow fell fast and drifted, among the tall spruce trees
The clouds were ghastly shadows, pushed by a stiffening breeze
The room was of deathly darkness as thick as the fog in the bay
And the vengeful one was waiting, in the bed on which he lay.

Silently he waited, clothed as if 'twas day
Till every tiny movement had ceased and died away
But even then he did not stir, in this he must succeed
It was his turn this dreadful night to try the shameful deed.

But soon he slid from the blankets, and as quiet as a ghost from the dead
He tiptoed to the doorway and round it stuck his head
Feeling confident again, he slowly groped his way
To the place where it had been; the corner in which it lay.

His hands they felt in the darkness, till one caught firmly hold
To that which he was seeking, of steel, of bulk and cold
Steadily he lifted, and wending back his way
High over head he raised it for a moment thus to stay.

And then with the speed of a boxer, and the mighty strength of an ox
He hurled the heavy missile as if 'twas a tiny rack
And quickly turning round he sprinted down the hall
To get into his bed again before the can did fall.

But alas! a peal of thunder, did rent the quiet night
And speeding up still faster, there came a flash of light
As he looked toward the switches he felt like a polecat treed
For there standing in the door was no one else but Mead.

THE LITERARY SOCIETY

THE LITERARY Society afforded the students of the O. S. A. many enjoyable evenings. What we commonly knew as the "Lit" was presented on Friday evenings under the direction of the Literory Committee. Each class was responsible for two evenings during the year, the other evenings being devoted to other forms of literary entertainment. Mr. Benn and other members of the stoff deserve credit for their untiring ossistance to the Literary Society. The Literory Society not only revealed o weolth of talent but hos provided the students with a degree of stoge experience which may prove involuable to them in later life.

BERNARD BOWLEN.

PANEL DISCUSSIONS

This year two panel discussions took the place of the debates of previous years. The panel discussions were each presented by six students, three on each side. The two sides were not necessarily in opposition, but merely presented two views of the question at hand. It was intended that the audience enter the discussion with questions.

On January 26th a first rate discussion was presented on "The Allied War Aims" by Fred Saltvold, Ralph Loosemoore, Steve Sears, Bernard Bowlen, Roy Ashby and Bill Cole. The subject was well handled and many facts were brought forth by each side.

The second discussion, "Women's Part in the World" was presented by Ingrid Dalbak, Ruth Hurshfield, Frances Williams, Florence Betts, Edna Hearn and Leona Armstrong, on February 23rd. As was intended several members of the audience asked questions, which added considerably to the interest of the discussion.

THE CHINOOK

The Chinook, our school paper, was published every two weeks by the students. The paper contained the news highlights of the school, the sport events, jokes, and a number of other features. This year, as a new venture to the paper, each student received a copy to put away in his O.S.A. treasure chest.

We compliment our editor, Steve Sears, on his good work, and thank Mr. Yauch, the staff representative, for his assistance.

VISITING SPEAKERS

We were fortunate in having a number of very interesting speakers visit us this year.

Mr. McWilliams, a Japanese Missionary, spoke to us on October 31st. Although Mr. McWilliams' time was short he told us many interesting things about Japan.

Mr. Watson Thomson, M.A. of the Extension Department of the University of Alberta, spent five days at the O. S. A. during which time he delivered four addresses on social psychology to each class. Mr. Thomson, who has travelled extensively and who has been affiliated with various educational institutions, captured the interest and friendship of every student. Mr. Thomson climaxed his visit with an illustrated lecture on his six years stay in Nigeria.

On January 12th Rev. Lonsdale entertained the students with an illustrated lecture on "Mountain Highways." The pictures were comprised of scenes taken during Rev. Lonsdale's period as Pastor of Banff United Church.

The O. S. A. was fortunate again this year in having Mr. Ralph Peacock contribute an evening to our Literary Society. Mr. Peacock's recital was composed of three groups of songs. The first group consisted of Where'er You Walk, A Fairy Story by the Fireside, Impatience, and Don Juan's Serenade; the second of Friend O'Mine, Lassie O'Mine, The Little Irish Girl, and Jeri Jericho; and the third of Sunrise and You, I Love Life, Sylvia, and There's a Land.

Mr. W. J. Elliott, former principal of this school, visited us on February 1st. Mr. Elliott, who is now associated with the Youth Training Organization, spoke on the planning of farm grounds. The speaker showed a number of plans which he had made for farm grounds, and I am sure we all gathered many valuable ideas.

Captain R. Gibson, a former instructor here, spoke to a number of students on his adventures at mountain climbing. Captain Gibson had a large collection of snap shots which added considerably to the interest of his talk.

A former student, Mr. P. D. Hargraves, who is now at the Brooks Experimental Station, presented an illustrated lecture on fruit production on the farm to a number of the students. I am sure that before Mr. Hargraves' lecture many of us did not appreciate the work that is being done to develop varieties of fruit which are suitable for our conditions.

O.S.A. DRAMATICS

On March 4th the twelfth annual presentation of the inter-class plays was staged in the Arena Auditorium. The plays were each of one act and required about forty minutes each for presentation.

The performance was, as usual, well received by the residents of Olds. They were played before an audience of three hundred.

We are sure that a great deal of work was entailed for both the actors and directors in bringing the plays to the high standard which they reached. The talent in acting which was displayed in each play would have been a credit to any dramatic society.

"Thank You Doctor," a comedy was presented by the first year class under the direction of Mr. H. McPhail.

Cast — Denny Cort, Charles Gardiner; Mrs. Lester, Dorothy Hertz, Dr. Gurney, Allon McFadden; Nurse, Agnes Stewart, and Detective, Charles Andrews.

The scene opens in the office of the famous brain-specialist Dr. Gurney. Mrs. Lester, a very skilful criminal arrives and it is from here that she hopes to accomplish her thievish plan. She tells the doctor that she has a brother who is mentally deranged and who is coming, in a sane spell, to visit the doctor that morning. Mrs. Lester has arranged to have Denny Cort, from a jewelry concern bring a very expensive necklace to the doctor's office at the time of her appointment there, for the approval of the doctor whom she has claimed to the jeweller was her uncle. The doctor is called from the office and thus when the jeweller arrives Mrs. Lester greets him and takes the necklace, supposedly to show to the doctor but in reality she escapes through a back door. Denny waits for some time and then fearing that he has been tricked calls the doctor and demands his necklace. The doctor and nurse immediately assume that he is the mentally deranged brother and the more he explains the more deeply involved he becomes.

The situation is saved by the detective, who by pretending he is also a mental patient is able to capture Mrs. Lester.

Under the direction of Mr. W. S. Benn the Two-in-One class presented "Two Crooks and a Lady."

Cast—Miller, Walter Longstreet; Lucille, Sylvia Kuores; Mrs. Simms-Vane, Mary Evans, Miss Jones, Norma French, Police Inspector, Bernard Bowlen; and Garrity, Tom Davidson.

Miller, the notorious croak, is going to rob Mrs. Simms-Vane, who is an invalid, of her valuable pearls. Miller with his fiancee and accomplice, Lucille, who is maid in Mrs. Simms-Vane's home, arranges a phane call to take Miss Jones, the old lady's companion, from the house. The situation becomes difficult when Mrs. Simms-Vane re'uses, even under torture, to tell where the pearls are hidden. At this point Lucille is called from the room and Mrs. Simms-Vane gives the stones to Miller on the condition that he would not tell Lucille. Lucille returns and Miller goes to search in another room, giving the old lady a chance to tell her what has happened in her absence. Realizing that she has been tricked Lucille grabs Miller's gun from the table and shoots him. The police rush in and take the two criminals.

The tensity incurred by the Two-in-One play was relieved by the comedy "The Happy Journey" presented by the second year class under the direction of Mr. Charles Yough.

Cast—Ma Kirby, Gladys Peterson; Pa Kirby, Ernie Warwick, Arthur, Roy Ashby, Caroline, Margaret Loft, Beulah, Alice Snoxell and Stage Manager, Howard Fulcher.

I am sure that even the most serious of us could not help but laugh at poor Ma Kirby as she travelled with her husband and two youngest children to visit her married daughter, Beulah. Ma was another of those good hearted, small town women with everyone's cares right at heart. She even felt sorry that she didn't have the opportunity to feed the poor thin dog that she saw by the roadside.

OPENING DANCE

This first social event of the 1939-40 term introduced the students into the social life at O. S. A. We were one and all welcomed by warm greetings from Mr. and Mrs. Murray, Miss Lee and Mr. Mead. A program of merry games helped us get acquainted. Awards for the Sports Day were presented by Mr. Murray, the highest awards going to Edna Hearn and Howard Hamling. A dance typical of our regular Friday night dances closed the evening.

INITIATION FROLIC

This was truly a gala event. Here was a chance for all "Freshettes" to let down their hair—into pigtails, and relax their faces—minus make-up. While the Freshmen plastered down their hair and discovered the art of make-up, couples with the ability to dance in odd shoes, reversed pyjama shirts and knee pants while the girls spent the evening "slipping" in reversed skirts and boys shirts. Everyone spent a very enjoyable evening, even though many of the laughs were at their own expense. It is secretly suspected that the "Freshies" enjoyed themselves even more than their tormentors, the illustrious Sophomores.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

After the long wearying hours of exams, this dance proved a welcome relief. We were happy and carefree again for very shortly we would be home for Christmas fun. Mr. Murray presented the scholarships won by students at O. S. A. last year. This dance was indeed a happy occasion for all

FRIDAY NIGHT DANCES

We students will all agree that the highlight of every week was Friday night with its "Lit" and dance. After leaving dear old O. S. A. what will we remember most—doubtless it will be those grand times we had with our O. S. A. friends at those dances. Who could forget that theme song on Saturday mornings, "How we hate to get up in the mornings—how we hated to go to bed."

THE ALUMNI DANCES

These dances sponsored by the Alumni Association were marked as special events of our term here at O. S. A. Amid gaily coloured streamers a carefree crowd of young people—students, ex-students, and friends, mingled together renewing old acquaintances and making new ones.

APARTMENT DAYS

What girl will ever forget those moments of dread and feverish last minute preparation that were concerned with her apartment days. Who has not heard tales of the cake that almost fell and the roast that overbrowned. Then how foolish all her fears seemed after it was all successfully over and apartment days gone forever to be nothing but an exciting memory of days at O. S. A.

MASQUERADE DANCE

Here was a chance to be anything we wanted for one evening. The result was great and varied. We found cowboys, queens, pirates, Indians and bearded ladies rubbing shoulders in the hoppy throng. Judging was a difficult task, however, Hildegard Anderson and Laurier Vadnois as Spaniards were acclaimed the best dressed couple. Prizes for the most original went to Mrs. Dunbar as the O. S. A. goalie, and to Jock Arnett as the ghost "Guess Who." The funniest were Margaret Loft as a Harlem darkie and Stanley Gardiner as a jolly clown. Only too soon came "Home Sweet Home."

There was a sound af revelry by night,
And O. S. A. students had gathered then,
Their Beauty and their Chivalry, and bright
The lamps shane o’er fair women and brave men;
Two hundred hearts beat happily, and when
Music rose with its voluptuous swell,
Soft eyes looked love to eyes that spake again
And all went merry as a wedding bell.
But hush! hork! a deep sound strikes with rising knell!
Did ye not hear it?—No—’twas but the wind,
Or motor cars rattling a’er the bumpy streets;
On with the dance! Let joy be unconfined;
No sleep till marn when Youth and Pleasure meet
To chase the glowing Hours with flying feet—
But, Hark! That heavy sound breaks in ance more
As if the staff its echaes would repeat;
And nearer—nearer—deadlier thon before!
Alas! Alas! It is—the final bell.

ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

DURING THE past term, athletic activities have greatly enlivened the spirit of comradeship and fellowship at O. S. A. Sports are just as important as the regular academic work of the school and are essential in the building up of healthy bodies and in preventing disease.

In all branches of sport, this was one of the most successful seasons that O. S. A. has witnessed. Credit must be given to the Athletic Committee, with the aid of Mr. Molyon, Mr. Parkinson and Mr. Meod, for their success in carrying out the very extensive program of athletic activities.

Hockey and basketball held the spotlight throughout the winter. The 1939-40 squad of pucksters has proven to be the best hockey team O. S. A. has put on ice, mainly due to the fine coaching of Mr. Meod.

Badminton was played enthusiastically throughout the winter months. Some volleyball was played, but mostly in P.T. periods. Table tennis was very popular in "the spare moments throughout the day" up till Christmas, after which, for some unknown reason, everyone seemed to drop all interest.

FIELD DAY

E. HEARN

THE ANNUAL Track and Field Day held on October 20th proved to be an interesting and successful one. The program displayed a number of outstanding events and keen competition was shown in them all.

Bouquets go to Edna Hearn, a first year student from Genesee, who won the cup for the highest awards in the girls' events and also to Haword Homling, a second year student from Worner who captured "the mug" for top honors in the boys' events.

At the dance held in the evening Mr. Murray, Principal of O. S. A., presented the winners of the individual events with ribbons and the champions with their cups.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

THE O. S. A. Girls' Basketball team got away to a rather slow start this season, but once under way the Malyon squad turned in some fine performances.

This year O. S. A. was fortunate in having a number of experienced players who have played with various high school teams. Agnes Stewart of Duhamel High, Nellie Hubbard of Lethbridge High and Phyllis Cochran of Arrowwood High, also Myrtle Patmore of Olds High. Gladys Petersen and Emily Kitching were the only players of last year's O. S. A. team and both played equally well again this year.

One of the feature attractions of the year was the game with the O. S. A. Outlaws which was comprised of entirely staff members. Slippery Ashcroft stole the whole show with his various comic antics which he put into his playing along with being high scorer for the night. Trainer Anti-Aircraft Gunn and Coach General Lee led their high spirited Outlaws on the floor to take a rough but exciting 28-13 count from O. S. A. girls. Other Outlaw players were Billy the Kid Leonard, Peg Leg Malyon, Deadeye Yauch, Two Gun Mead, Buck Parkinson, Ragweed Kemp, Snorty Gibson.

At O. H. S. our girls met their old rivals from Carstairs and went down to a 28-14 defeat. They also made a trip to Calgary and as Tech did not put an appearance on the floor, O. S. A. won by default. In eight games O. S. A. won four and scored 127 points, having 128 scored against them.

 Inset—N. White, L. Thirsk.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

BOYS' BASKETBALL proved to be a very outstanding sport throughout the 39-40 school term. It is believed that this team is one of the best Cooch Parkinson has ever put on the floor. O. S. A. was very fortunate in having four experienced players—Blayne Stevens of Barnwell High School, E. Erickson of Donalds High, Thurston Smith of Cordston High and Lester Thirsk of last year's O. S. A. squad. The first three mentioned players played an important part in most of O. S. A.'s wins.

O. S. A. won their first three games before suffering their first defeat on their own floor by a fast passing squad from Botha by a 19-18 score.

Elmer Erickson set a record of scoring 24 points of 37 in one game against O. H. S.

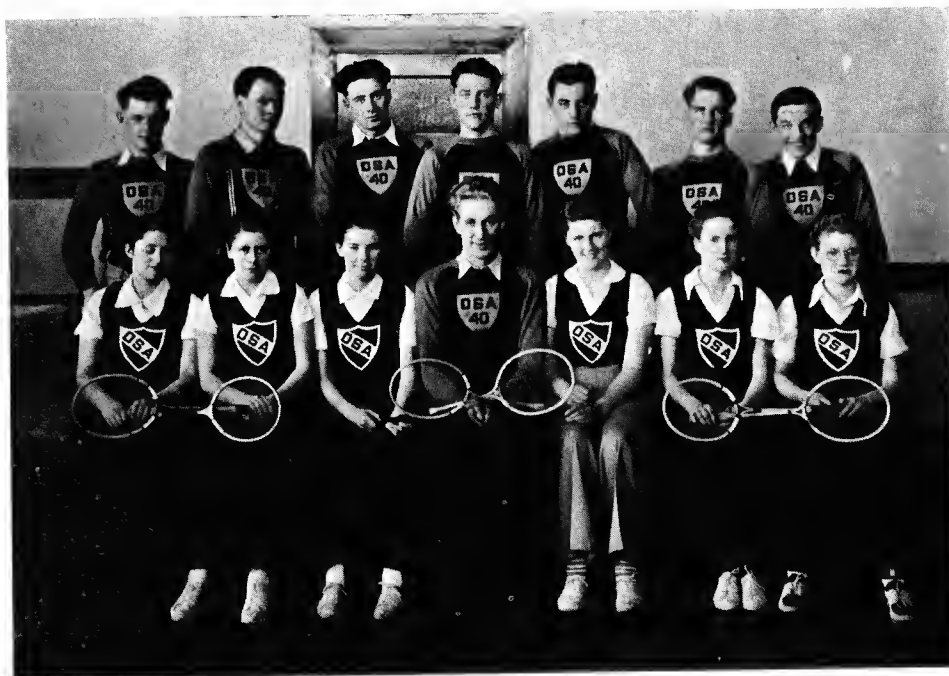

In a two game series with Calgary Tech, O. S. A. won 30-28 in Calgary and Tech evened up the series with a fine 26-22 count on O. S. A. floor. These games were the feature games of the season.

In nine games O. S. A. won six. They chalked up 273 points, only having 199 against them. The following are the results of the games played:

O. S. A. 33	O. H. S. 11	O. S. A. 28	O. H. S. 10
O. S. A. 29	Super Seven 22	O. S. A. 45	O. H. S. 29
O. S. A. 18	Botha 19	O. S. A. 30	Calgary Tech 28

BADMINTON

ONCE AGAIN the merry twong of breaking strings and cracking rockets was heard on numerous occasions in our gym. A good deal of racket swinging was seen this year, although there was no definite badminton club formed.

On February 12th there was a shuttle tourney run off in our gym against a number of O. H. S. students. O. S. A. successfully won seven of eight events against the O. H. S. representatives.

In early March there was a badminton tournament started among our own O. S. A. students, about thirty taking part. We regret that we are unable to give you the final results as the tournament was not completed at the time the year book went to press, but the final outcome in Ladies' Doubles was Edna Taggart and Helen Storey were winners, while Emily Kitching and Mickey Moseholm were top natchers in the Mixed Doubles. Congratulotians to all of you.

Famous Lost Words—Who's gat a bird?

VOLLEYBALL

OUTSIDE OF P.T. periods there was very little volleyball played this year. On one occasion E. Erickson's team of Two-In-Ones and second years took two out of three games against the first years.

HOCKEY

HOCKEY, THE most popular sport during the winter months, proved to be most successful this 1939-40 season. Without a doubt the 1939-40 squad of pucksters proved to be the best hockey team O. S. A. has put on ice.

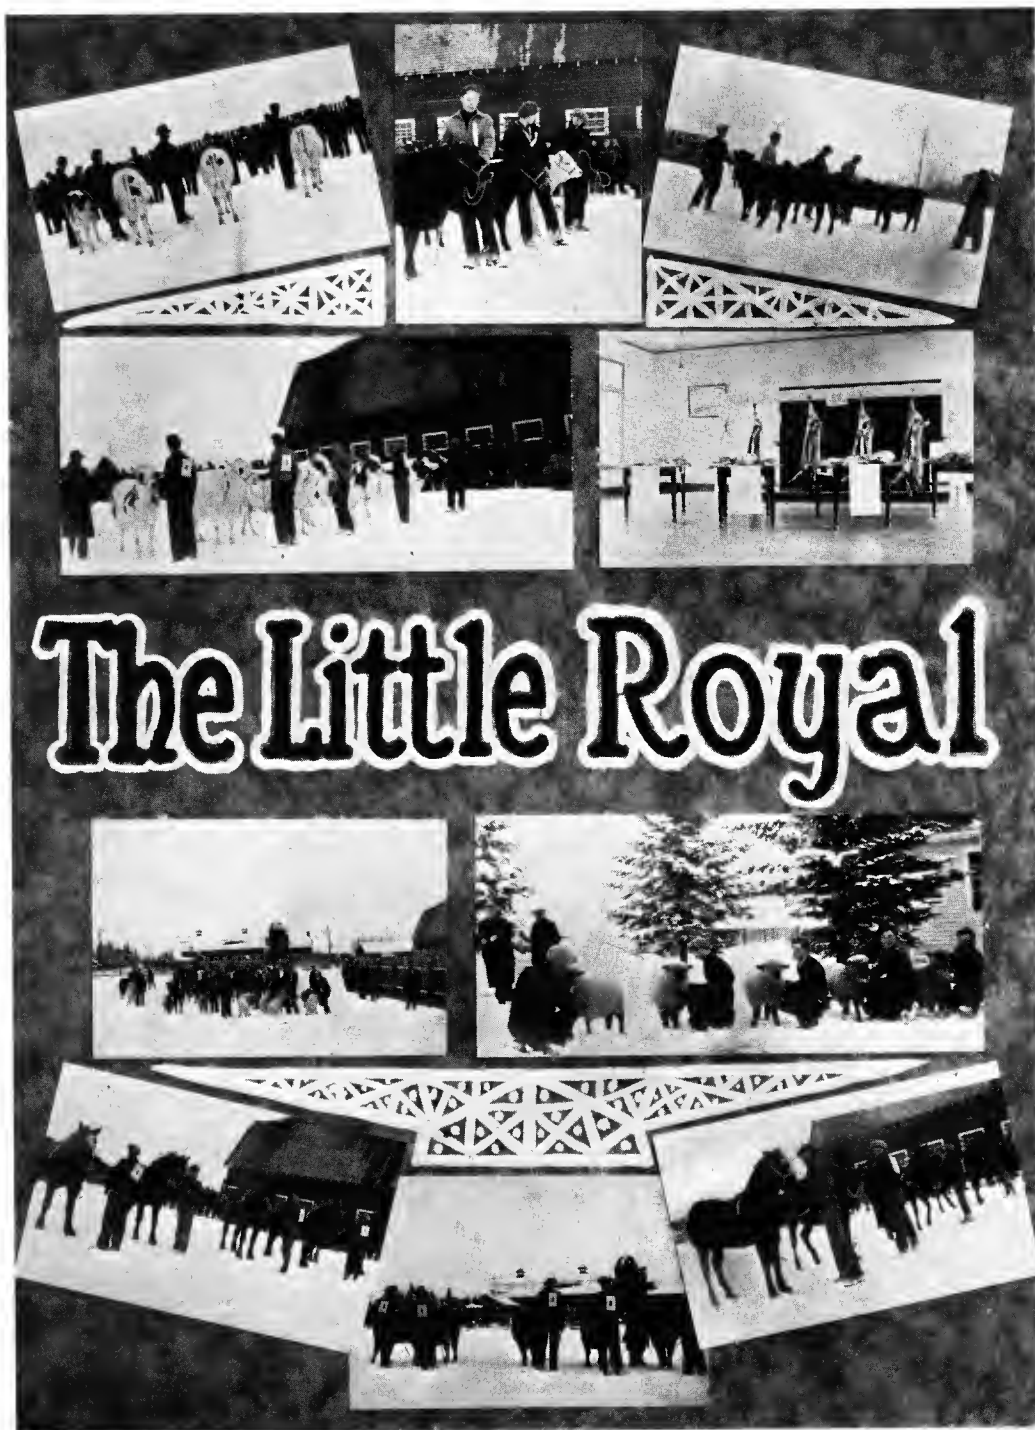

Mr. Mead, who has played senior hockey with the University of Alberta and two seasons ago supervised the V. S. A. hockey team and last season the O. S. A. team, again proved an outstanding player and a very competent coach. Coach Mead had plenty of material from which to select a well balanced team and judging by their record of five wins in six games made a fine choice. The following are the scores of the games played.

O. S. A. 6, Samis 1; O. S. A. 11, Westerdale 0; O. S. A. 3, Eagle Valley 1; O. S. A. 4, Eagle Valley 5; O. S. A. 6, Olds Intermediates 5; O. S. A. 4, Bowden Intermediates 2.

O. S. A. had two high scoring forward lines and a stout defence, along with some fine steady goal tending by Jack Arnett. In the six games played they only had 14 goals scored against them while they banged the rubber into the nets of the opposing teams no fewer than 34 times. Penalties were very few, only ten minutes in penalties being chalked up against the entire team.

There were some fast, high scoring inter-class battles from which the First Years came out on top.

"The Little Royal"

The graduating class of 1940 finished an important project on Saturday, March 9th, with the completion of the "Little Royal." Six weeks of preparation brought all classes up to a high standard of fitting and shawmanship.

The weatherman was kind enough to clear the skies for that afternoon, and although it was cold the show was carried out without too much discomfort.

Every class was closely contested. The sheep, horses and carcass classes were especially attractive if one may take the liberty to pick any outstanding entries.

Two boys were on the sick list and were unable to take part; namely, Elmer Erickson and Fred Saltvold. Howard Hamling showed Fred's heifer to make up the full class.

A popular attraction this year was the coffee and lunch stand operated by the O. S. A. girls.

Dr. Sinclair again judged the various classes and as in past years did a most pleasing and efficient job.

The parade formed the highlight of the show and ended by going past Mr. Murray's house. Mr. Murray was unable to attend the "Royal" because of sickness.

The class of 1940 may be justly proud of their "Little Royal."

SCHOOL FAIRS

MANY OF the students of the O. S. A. are familiar with the work of school fairs as carried on in their home communities. This work for the central and southern parts of the Province is conducted from the O. S. A. During the 1939 season 56 fairs were held in this territory in which 801 schools including 15,440 pupils took part and 43,787 exhibits were shown.

Literature and garden seeds supplied by the Department of Agriculture are distributed from Olds. Immediately after the close of the school term the dairy room is the scene of great activity when the seeds, which are received in bulk, must be put up in small packets and bundles assembled for each school taking part in the work. Mr. Benn and Mr. Holton are the chief actors in this scene which lasts for two or three weeks.

When the seeds have been sent to all schools these men start the visiting of schools, giving talks and demonstrations for the purpose of encouraging and instructing pupils in the preparation of exhibits. Visiting is continued to about June 15th when the examination period commands the attention of the pupils.

The month of September is fair time and fairs are held almost every day except Saturdays and Sundays. Three circuits are necessary each with its crew of judges consisting of a man and lady member of the O. S. A. teaching staff. Assistance is given at each fair by the School Inspector and the District Agriculturist in whose territory the fair is held.

Another big feature in connection with school fairs is the Scholarship Short Course which is held in July and is attended by the boy and the girl scholarship winners from each fair. Upwards of a hundred boys and girls are brought in by bus under the supervision of guides from all over the Southern half of the Province. They are taken care of in the dormitory and are given classes in practical work, sports and entertainment of various kinds. Their time is fully occupied and a real taste of O. S. A. life is given them which they seem to appreciate. A fair percentage of these young people later return for the regular courses indicating that they liked the sample.

THE UNIVERSITY WEEK FOR FARM YOUNG PEOPLE

IN 1919 the then Acting Director of the Department of Extension, the late Prof. H. H. Gaetz, mentioned in his annual report that a conference of "young people from farming communities" had been held at the University and attended by 105 young men and women. The report stated that the conference, which was in the nature of an experiment, was a complete success, and the hope was expressed that it would be continued from year to year.

Next June, from the 5th to the 12th, the 22nd annual Farm Young People's Week will be held on the University campus, thereby showing that the hope expressed by Acting Director Gaetz in 1919 has borne fruit with the years. In the intervening years some 4000 boys and girls from practically every rural community in Alberta have attended this conference. Many of them have returned to take regular courses in the University and are now holding responsible positions in various parts of the world.

The initiative in organizing the conference was taken by Mrs. Irene Parlbay of Alix, and Mrs. Leona R. Barritt of Mirror, both at that time active in the work of the United Farmers of Alberta, and Miss Montgomery and Mr. Ottewell of the Extension Department. The main idea behind the plan was that such a conference would provide an opportunity for rural young people to come and spend a pleasant week of study and organized recreation at their own university where they would gain inspiration and a wider outlook on the problems of their own communities.

The program adopted for the first Farm Young People's Week has been modified in the light of changing conditions and needs with the years, but in the main it consists of lectures and demonstrations in practical agricultural subjects for the boys, and home economics, handicrafts and home nursing for the girls. In addition to these practical subjects, courses in citizenship, rural sociology, international affairs, literature, folk dancing, dramatics and photography have been added as options for students returning for a second year. The course is open to all farm boys and girls between 16 and 27 years of age. Room and board is provided in the University residences, and altogether a pleasant and profitable program is provided.

Since the beginning, the United Farmers of Alberta have assisted students to attend the conference by raising what is known as the Junior Conference Fund. These monies are used to defray students' railway fares, and have been the means of enabling many students to attend who would otherwise have been unable to do so.

In 1926 the provincial Department of Agriculture instituted the policy of awarding two scholarships—one each for the boy and girl gaining the highest marks on an examination based on a reading course taken during the winter months, and on questions on the lectures during the week. Both scholarships are tenable at the provincial schools of agriculture. In addition to these two major scholarships, about twenty other prizes varying in value from $3.00 to $15.00 each are given to the winners of grain judging, livestock judging, handicraft and other competitions.

On the whole the annual Farm Young People's Week which celebrated its coming of age last June at the time of the Royal Visit, enjoys a unique position as one of the oldest institutions of its kind in the province. From the standpoint of the University it has been one of its most effective pieces of extension work. From the standpoint of rural youth, it has been an effective and economical means of bringing them in touch with further educational opportunities and has also been the means of giving the rural population a more accurate conception of the value of the University in the development of the farming community.

ODE TO THE RELUCTANT O. S. A. STUDENT

Now, Ben, I would say to him,
I know you'd sooner stay at home and play or swim
Or over trail or broad highway
Your restless feet would like to stray
To far off places, where ne'er is heard
The angry voice or nagging word
Of impatient instructors, who raise their voice
Trying to set thee on thy right course.
But for thy own good consider now
(With worried eyes and knitted brow)
What will you do to rise to fame
When it comes your turn to play the game
Of life, and unprepared you stand
As some lone wanderer in a foreign land
Who, unaccustomed and afraid
Seeks some stranger's helpful aid.
Then will you wish that you had plied
Into your books, while here, and tried
To learn of farming and its trials
Instead of wandering off for miles
And causing worry and indignation
To those entrusted with your education.

JIM KEARNS.

COLLEGE PHILOSOPHY

The more we study, the more we know.
The more we know, the more we forget,
The more we forget, the less we know,
So, why study?

The less we study, the less we know.
The less we know, the less we forget,
The less we forget, the more we know,
So, why study?

Lofty, after a short fall, found herself on the spring. "They autumn make 'em better as some are rather fall-ty" was the hasty exclamation.

FOR YOUNG FARM FOLKS

The pioneer farmers of the prairie provinces were mostly men of energy, courage and prospective. They soon discovered that an oligarchy of wealth was being built up in the grain handling and selling business. Conditions become intolerable to freedom-loving people.

The pioneers offset the encroaching money control by building their own co-operative organizations. It took much of their time, their meagre savings and vast energy to accomplish the task. But their persistence was unbeatable.

Huge grain organizations with vast assets of wealth behind them invaded Western Canada. But the pioneer co-operators met them all—dountless and unafraid.

You are protected in all your grain dealings today because of the pioneer co-operators. They drew up a timeless Magna Charta for the benefit of all posterity on the prairies.

The torch is now in your hands. It is your duty and privilege to see that the co-operative institutions, developed from the efforts of a passing generation, are strengthened and perpetuated.

OLDS

As a graduate of O. S. A. your carefully trained ability to learn will be turned to the new problems of running establishments of your own.

Throughout the year, as money comes in from grain, livestock, poultry, honey sales and dairy products, it will be your job to see that when those moneys are spent, they will bring the greatest returns in comfort and happiness to your family.

The best way to get ahead, is to plan ahead—and right there's where EATON'S comes in.

EATON Catalogues are "stores between covers" that illustrate all the newest styles and the finest quality merchandise at the lowest possible prices. With an EATON Catalogue before you, you can plan in advance your purchases for a week, a month or six months.

Follow such a program of planned buying and you'll be surprised how much money will be left in your purse to spend.

Foodstuffs for Fighting Men

OUR ARMIES in the battle areas will require vast quantities of foodstuffs of high quality. The graduates and students of the Olds School of Agriculture, by extending to their farmer friends the valuable information they have secured from their institution, will help materially to increase the quantity and quality of the essential foodstuffs produced in Alberta.

"FAREWELL TO O.S.A."

The day of parting comes, and we who have
Been linked together as a living chain
Must say good-bye, and go our different ways,
Knowing full well that in the coming days
We shall not meet again.
Not as we have met here; but thro' the years
We shall have friendship's strength to rest upon,
For friendship is a firm and sacred trust
That lasts when fondest hopes have turned to dust,
And helps us carry on.
Then, knowing this, shall we not strive to make
The very most of time that now is ours?
That when we part there be no vain regret,
No bitter words that we would fain forget,
No sting of ill-spent hours?
The future beckons on—to each there comes
A call for service in the world's great field;
'Twill prove how well our lessons we have learned
If, through the mist of years, we have discerned
A faith that will not yield.
So now a long farewell to College days,
We pause a moment on the thresh-hold, then
Go out to face what life may have in store,
To do our best—for what can man do more
To serve his fellow-men?

MARY EVANS.
